

AFFORDABLE RENTAL HOUSING A.C.T.I.O.N. A Call To Invest in Our Neighborhoods

May 6, 2020

The Honorable Mitch McConnell
Majority Leader
United States Senate
Washington, DC 20510

The Honorable Nancy Pelosi
Speaker
United States House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

The Honorable Charles Schumer
Minority Leader
United States Senate
Washington, DC 20510

The Honorable Kevin McCarthy
Minority Leader
United States House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Leader McConnell, Speaker Pelosi, Leader Schumer, and Leader McCarthy,

The undersigned businesses and organizations, representing over 2,300 national, state, and local affordable housing stakeholders as a part of the A Call To Invest in Our Neighborhoods (ACTION) Campaign, urge Congress to stabilize our nation's affordable housing delivery system by including provisions to support the Low-Income Housing Tax Credit (Housing Credit) – our nation's primary tool for encouraging private investment in affordable rental housing – in the next coronavirus (COVID-19) response package.

There is a severe shortage of affordable rental housing in the United States, and the COVID-19 pandemic has only exacerbated this growing crisis. Developments nationwide are now threatened due to significant financing gaps caused by the cuts to federal borrowing rates made in response to the pandemic. The need to keep affordable housing production moving forward is even greater with more than 30 million individuals and counting who have lost their jobs while one in four renters were already struggling paying more than 50 percent of their income in rent prior to the pandemic.

The ACTION Campaign urges Congress to enact policies to help mitigate the damage to affordable housing production that is already occurring as a result of this crisis. Several of the measures listed below are included in the Affordable Housing Credit Improvement Act (S.1703 & H.R.3077), bipartisan legislation that gained the support of half of the U.S. House of Representatives and nearly half of the U.S. Senate prior to the pandemic, but have become especially urgent now. In addition to these recommendations, the affordable housing community is also seeking additional relief through rental assistance, support for struggling properties, and regulatory flexibilities. We respectfully request immediate consideration of the following proposals for the next response package:

- Enact a minimum 4 percent Housing Credit rate. With federal borrowing rates recently slashed in response to the pandemic, the “4 percent” Housing Credit rate is dropping precipitously – from 3.17 percent in March to 3.12 percent in April to 3.08 percent in May – and will likely decline even further, threatening the viability of many critical properties. Every day, many developments already underway have become financially infeasible due to the falling rate and are now coming to a halt. Enacting a minimum 4 percent Housing Credit rate would provide parity to the 9 percent Housing Credit rate, for which Congress enacted a minimum rate as part of the response to the 2008 economic collapse in recognition of the critical role of affordable housing in the recovery. This would help ensure projects remain financially viable and that these much-needed homes will move forward. Furthermore, Novogradac estimates that nearly 126,000 additional affordable rental homes would be created or preserved over 2020-2029 with a minimum 4 percent Housing Credit rate. According to the National Association of Home Builders, each 100 units built supports 125 full-time equivalent jobs for one year. These affordable homes and jobs will be critical as the nation recovers from COVID-19.

AFFORDABLE RENTAL HOUSING A.C.T.I.O.N. A Call To Invest in Our Neighborhoods

- Lower the “50 percent test” Bond financing threshold for 4 percent Housing Credit developments. The “4 percent” Housing Credit is available for developments that receive 50 percent or more of their financing from Private Activity Bonds, and such developments are responsible for roughly half of all Housing Credit developments. However, unexpected and increased project development costs due to delays caused by the pandemic are jeopardizing properties’ ability to assemble enough bond financing to meet the “50 percent test,” which puts at risk the properties’ access to associated Housing Credit equity. Lowering the 50 percent threshold would allow more developments the ability to move forward despite these disruptions related to the pandemic. It would also increase affordable housing production by allowing more developments to access 4 percent Housing Credits.

As Congress considers future recovery legislation, there are additional proposals that would allow us to better respond to our nation’s affordable housing needs, for both developments underway as well as the future housing that will be needed to respond to the pandemic. As part of further relief and recovery, we recommend:

- Increasing the annual Housing Credit allocation by 50 percent, phased in over two years at 25 percent per year, beginning in 2021. This would finance hundreds of thousands of affordable homes for low-income households, who are in much more dire need of affordable housing in light of the current crisis.
- Providing additional basis boosts for vulnerable properties impacted by COVID-19, including Housing Bond-financed properties that have felt the financing crisis most acutely, developments serving extremely low-income tenants, rural area properties, and properties in Native American communities, would make more properties financially feasible.

The ACTION Campaign will continue to focus on communicating the developing needs of this community during all stages of this stabilization and recovery process and urge Congress to include these critical Housing Credit provisions in future COVID-19 response legislation. We appreciate your immediate consideration of these priority items.
